India's 'Hero' Flydubai Pilot Smit Machchhar

National Bureau Chief NEW DELHI Oct. 02: Prime Minister Narendra Modi on Friday spoke to India's brave pilot Captain Smit Machchhar, who is undergoing treatment in the UAE after he was injured while resisting his attacker, a flydubai co-pilot. Machchhar, who was attacked by his Omani co-pilot, struggled to open the cockpit door, which led the passengers, mainly Israeli security forces members, onboard to subdue the attacker. Captain Smit gave details of his experience and what gave him courage during the incident, which is being seen as a possible hijack attempt. PM Modi applauded his bravery and wished him a quick recovery. The flydubai flight issued an emergency alert and abruptly descended thousands of feet as the incident unfolded. Israel scrambled warplanes amid concerns about a possible hijacking. The plane carrying passengers from the flight landed in Israel, however, it was not clear what motivated the attack. "We are guarding the pilot," one person said in Hebrew. In another video, passengers wept and cried out as the aircraft shook. Those who intervened "saved many lives and prevented a major disaster," Netanyahu said, adding that Saudi Arabia arrested a pilot whose identity was not immediately shared by authorities. Just another pilot until a day ago, Machchhar became the toast of India, and the world, as acclamations and tributes streamed in Thursday from US President Donald Trump, PM Modi, President Droupadi Murmu and Israeli PM Benjamin Netanyahu, among others, for putting his life at risk to avert a mid-air tragedy. The knife attack on Smit by the co-pilot inside the cockpit had forced the flight carrying 174 people from Dubai to Tel Aviv, Israel, to make an emergency landing in Tabuk in northwest Saudi Arabia on Wednesday. Smit, 39, is recovering in Abu Dhabi. Trump hailed Smit as a "hero" for fighting off the knife attack and opening the cockpit door to call for help. The pilot, in bad shape, had the sense to open the door. In a way he was a hero," Trump said. Flyers helped overpower the co-pilot and a reserve flight crew travelling as passengers landed the plane safely. In the face of the gravest danger... he showed immense courage and an unwavering resolve to protect the lives of others," Modi wrote on X. The PM said he had spoken with Smit's parents and wife. "Smit's bravery fills every Indian with pride," the PM said. School friend Bhavin Jethva remembered Smit as "straightforward, bindass". Smit's classmates at a flying school in New Zealand went to him whenever a subject got difficult. As a captain and line trainer, he spoke to loaders and catering staff with the same respect as fellow pilots, friends said.

Demand to Name Mamunoor Airport After Doddi Komuraiah Telangana Intellectual Forum

Santhosh, Bureau Chief

Warangal October 02: A round-table meeting was held at the Hanamkonda Press Club under the auspices of the Telangana Intellectual Forum and presided over by journalist Damara Ravinder, demanding that the Warangal Mamunoor Airport be named after Doddi Komuraiah. Senior journalist Pasham Yadagiri attended the meeting and spoke about the global significance of the armed struggle and movements led by the people of Telangana's soil. He recalled that on July 4, 1946, Doddi Komuraiah attained martyrdom by standing firmly against gunfire during the Telangana Peasant Armed Struggle. The Intellectual Forum views naming the Warangal Mamunoor Airport after Doddi Komuraiah as a fitting tribute to the martyrs. It was emphasized that there is no need to perpetuate names associated with the history of monarchy and feudal exploitation which caused immense suffering to the people of Telangana's infrastructure; instead, facilities should bear the names of heroes who sacrificed their lives for the public. The Telangana Armed Struggle liberated the people from bonded labor vetti chakiri and many heroes sacrificed themselves for the cause of people's political power. Figures such as Chakali Ailamma, Sheik Bandagi, and Doddi Komuraiah played pivotal roles, standing against landlords and Deshmukhs who had usurped lands; the meeting highlighted the need to move away from retaining names associated with that oppressive feudal and monarchical history in the region. It was emphasized that the world needs to know the history of those who sacrificed their lives for self-respect, and that naming the project after Doddi Komuraiah transcending caste and religion would be highly appropriate. A warning was issued stating that if the government fails to adopt Doddi Komuraiah's name, the Congress party would face political ruin. The Chief Minister had previously promised in a meeting to use Doddi Komuraiah's name; reneging on this commitment now would invite the wrath of the Bahujan people of Telangana. Therefore, the government was urged to take seriously the need to honor the martyrs of the armed struggle by naming the project after them. Participants in this round-table meeting included Azad, Kadamanchi Rambabu, Ailaiah, Mahesh Pani, Sravan, Shiva, Tirupati, Lingaiah, Srinivas Charvaka, Kodala Prasad, Ramesh, Prabhakar, and leaders from student, youth, and civil society organizations.

Jayaho Smith Matcher Salute to Courage

An airplane is responsible for carrying hundreds of lives at once. If an unexpected accident occurs at such a time, even a moment's delay can lead to great tragedy. However, the courage and punctuality shown by Captain Smith Macher in the incident that took place on a FlyDubai flight from Dubai to Tel Aviv has become a memorable event in the history of world aviation. His prioritizing the safety of passengers without thinking about his own life, even in a situation where he was seriously injured, demonstrated his commitment to his profession. In the incident that took place on September 30, the co-pilot reportedly attacked Captain Smith Machar with a knife. At the same time, the situation became extremely dangerous as the flight control systems were compromised. As the plane was rapidly descending, the seriously injured captain unlocked the cockpit door and signaled for help. This action allowed passengers and crew to recognize the situation and enter the cockpit. Israeli plumber Yaniv Hayun, another passenger, the off-duty pilot, and other crew members worked together to bring the situation under control. The plane was later safely landed at Tabuk Airport in Saudi Arabia. Another important aspect of this incident was the initiative shown by Yaniv Hayun. Noticing the lights going out and the change in air pressure in the plane, he went to the cockpit. Realizing that the situation inside was dangerous, he helped control the attacker. He revealed that he grabbed the control sticks and pulled them back as the plane was descending. It is interesting to note that although he did not have any special training in flying the plane, he said that the basic understanding he had gained from previous plane crash programs was useful at that moment. However, it should be noted that the role of trained pilots and crew in such emergencies is crucial. Captain Smith Machar, from Gujarat, has over 13 years of experience in the commercial aviation sector. He served as Senior Commander and Line Training Captain at SpiceJet from 2011 to 2022. He has over 9,500 hours of experience flying Boeing 737 aircraft. He joined FlyDubai in 2022, where he is also responsible for flight operations and pilot training. The Indian Embassy is currently monitoring his health, who is currently undergoing treatment in the hospital. Captain Machar's bravery has been praised by many dignitaries, including Prime Minister Narendra Modi and Israeli Prime Minister Benjamin Netanyahu. US President Donald Trump has also described him as a hero. But more important than the praise are the lessons to be learned from this incident on aviation safety. The incident reminds us of the need to further strengthen cockpit safety, crew psychological and professional readiness, and emergency response procedures. Every life on board the plane is not in the hands of the pilot alone. The entire system is responsible. The right decision made by one person in that system can save hundreds of lives. That is what Smith Machar did. His courage in carrying out his responsibility without flinching despite serious injuries is truly commendable. Although the full facts of the incident need to be revealed during the investigation, the collective courage shown by many to save lives at that moment is a great example of humanity. Jayho Smith Machar.. Hats off to your courage!

BRS leaders hit back at Revanth Reddy over Sircilla speech

BRS leaders from the erstwhile Karimnagar district criticised Chief Minister A Revanth Reddy over his Sircilla speech, alleging he focused on attacks against BRS leaders instead of development issues. They sought action on pending projects, weavers' schemes and Dalit Bandhu funds.

Karimnagar: BRS leaders from the erstwhile Karimnagar district hit back at Chief Minister A Revanth Reddy over his Sircilla speech, accusing him of focusing on personal attacks against BRS chief K Chandrashekhara Rao and working president KT Rama Rao instead of addressing farmers, weavers, irrigation, employment and development.

Speaking on the occasion on Thursday, former Minister Gangula Kamalakar said people expected major development announcements during the Chief Minister's visit but were disappointed. He pointed out that projects like the cable bridge, riverfront and the collectorate in Karimnagar city, were sanctioned during the previous BRS government.

He asked Revanth Reddy to identify a major new project sanctioned for Karimnagar by the Congress government and sought clarity on the pending railway bridge works. He also demanded evidence for allegations against KT Rama Rao, including those concerning 8,000 acres.

BRS general secretary and former Minister T Jeevan Reddy said the government should explain why the Worker-to-Owner scheme for weavers had been stopped and what it had done for Sircilla's handloom workers in last three years.

Former MP B Vinod Kumar stated that several projects now being credited to the ruling Congress, were actually initiated during the BRS regime. In response to the Chief Minister's allegations against BRS working president KT Rama Rao, he sought details of the alleged 8,000-acre land issue under the RTI Act and asked the government to make its evidence public.

BRS MLA Padi Kaushik Reddy demanded the release of the second instalment of Dalit Bandhu funds for Huzurabad and Rs 1,000 crore for constituency development.

The BRS leaders also sought revival of the Worker-to-Owner scheme, acceleration of pending railway works and a white paper on the handloom sector.

Hyderabad: The ongoing Special Intensive Revision (SIR) of electoral rolls saw nearly 29,000 applications (Form-7) being filed objecting proposed inclusion or seeking deletion of existing entry of the elector from the final electoral roll in Telangana. Among the total, around 5,000 applications were from Hyderabad alone, followed by Siddipet and Sangareddy districts.

Revealing SIR of electoral rolls status in the State on Thursday, Telangana Chief Electoral Officer C Sudharsan Reddy said 28,753 Form-7 applications were filed, so far.

While submitting the Form-7 an individual must mention the reason such as not residing in the mentioned address, dead or permanently migrated, he said, adding that Form -7 applications received from the political parties would be thoroughly enquired and verified before taking any action.

"Special care is being taken while deciding the Form-7 received in bulk. All claims and objections will be placed on the website of the CEO, so that citizens are able to see the list and lodge objections, if any," he said.

As many as 55 lakh out of 92.88 lakh electors who were unmapped with SIR 2002 or had anomalies in their enumeration forms have already marked for inclusion in electoral rolls. The remaining electors' applications were under different stages, he said.

Stating that 4,43,183 individuals submitted Form 6 (fresh enrolment), he said declaration form, along with Form-6 has to be submitted during the period of SIR only and during the non-SIR period, declaration form would not be insisted on.

Further, 3,35,187 electors filed Form-8 seeking changes in their voter ID details such as shifting of residence within or outside constituency correction of particulars, replacement of EPIC without correction and marking of PWD elector.

Kalyana Lakshmi, Shaadi Mubarak complete 12 years with 16.78 lakh beneficiaries

Kalyana Lakshmi and Shaadi Mubarak, launched in 2014, have completed 12 years, evolving into major welfare schemes providing marriage assistance to poor families. The programmes have recorded 16.78 lakh beneficiaries, while their implementation and promised gold component remain political issues.

Hyderabad: When a fire destroyed 64 houses in Bhagya Thanda near Mallampally in erstwhile Warangal district in 2002, Kima Naik and his wife lost almost everything they owned. But what distressed them most was the loss of the money and valuables they had saved for the marriage of their daughter Kalpana.

K Chandrashekhara Rao, who was then leading the Telangana movement, visited the tribal hamlet after the fire. Moved by the couple's plight, he provided Rs 50,000 in his personal capacity to help them go ahead with Kalpana's marriage. What began with Chandrashekhara Rao helping a family whose daughter's wedding was threatened by a fire eventually became an institutionalised welfare programme reaching over 16 lakh families in 12 years.

Two decades later, the story came full circle when Kalpana's daughter Chandrakala was married with assistance under the Kalyana Lakshmi scheme, the programme inspired by the circumstances surrounding her own wedding.

Kalyana Lakshmi and Shaadi Mubarak, launched on October 2, 2014, completed 12 years on Thursday. The schemes were among the flagship welfare initiatives of the BRS government, then TRS, providing financial assistance to poor families for the marriage of their daughters. The schemes were introduced to provide financial assistance to SC, ST and minority families and were subsequently extended to BC and EBC categories.

The schemes were also designed to discourage child marriages by making assistance conditional on the bride completing 18 years. Kalyana Lakshmi was initially targeted mainly at SC and ST families, while Shaadi Mubarak was aimed at minority families. The coverage was subsequently expanded to BC and EBC families.

The assistance, initially Rs 51,000, was increased to Rs 75,116 in 2017 and to Rs 1,00,116 in March 2018. An enhanced assistance of Rs 1,25,145 was subsequently provided for eligible differently abled brides.

By November 2023, over 14 lakh beneficiary families had received assistance under the schemes and the government had disbursed more than Rs 13,500 crore by then. As per the latest estimates, the welfare programmes accumulated a grand total of 16,78,347 beneficiaries, including more than 1.5 lakh families, involving an aggregate government expenditure of Rs 16,375.87 crore, including nearly Rs 3,000 crore under the Congress rule.

The age condition gave the scheme a wider social objective. Families could not claim the assistance if the bride was below 18, providing an incentive to postpone marriage. Available data show that the proportion of women aged 20-24 who were married before 18 declined from 26.2 per cent in NFHS-4 (National Family Health Survey) to 23.5 per cent in NFHS-5. The Female Gross Enrolment Ratio in higher education in Telangana also rose from 34.1 per cent in 2017-18 to 41.6 per cent in 2021-22.

The scheme became a major political issue during the 2023 Assembly elections when the Congress promised to retain the Rs 1,00,116 assistance and add one tola, or 10 grams, of gold for eligible brides.

Though the Congress government continued the cash assistance after assuming power, its disbursement was in fits and starts. The promised gold component, along with the cash assistance, remained unfulfilled. The absence of a clear mechanism for supplying the gold or reimbursing its purchase led to criticism from the opposition and beneficiaries.

Meanwhile, applications for the cash assistance faced delays, with more than 45,000 applications pending with the Congress government as of March 31, 2024. The government subsequently released funds and continued distributing the Rs 1,00,116 assistance without the gold component.

Kalyana Lakshmi Scheme Brings Smiles to Poor Families – Former Minister Smt. Satyavathi Rathod

Dayyala Rakesh Bhanu Direct Voice Bureau Chief, Mahabubabad October 2: Former Minister Smt. Satyavathi Rathod stated that the Kalyana Lakshmi scheme is a magnificent welfare initiative that has stood as a pillar of support for poor and middle-class families in Telangana. To mark the completion of 12 years since the scheme's inception, BRS party members honored the family of Kalpanathe daughter of Bhanoth Keema Naik and Rukma mma from Bhagya Thanda in Mallampalli Mand alwith traditional silk garments. Speaking at an event held on this occasion, former Minister Satyavathi Rathod stated that the then Chief Minister KCR had introduced the 'Kalyana Lakshmi' scheme with the aim of alleviating the financial burden of daughters' marriages for poor families. Paying rich tributes on the occasion of Mahatma Gandhi's birth anniversary, she noted that the scheme provided financial security to lakhs of poor families in Telangana, supported parents during their daughters' weddings, and brought smiles to their faces. She highlighted that Kalyana Lakshmi was a key initiative among the many welfare schemes implemented by the KCR government for the well-being of the poor and the dignity of women. She mentioned that financial support had been provided to approximately 13 lakh families through the scheme and that the BRS government had spent thousands of crores of rupees on it. She added that KCR, a son of the Telangana soil, had designed numerous welfare schemes that placed the state prominently on the global map. "Former Minister Satyavathi Rathod demanded that Seethak kawho was elected as an MLA and is currently serving as a state minister answer the public regarding the development activities undertaken in the Mulugu constituency. She stated that during the KCR government's tenure, numerous programs and projects were initiated for the development of the Mulugu region, with a special emphasis placed on tribal welfare. "They stated that medical and nursing colleges were established in Mulugu at a cost of approximately ₹250 crore, thereby making better medical education and healthcare services accessible to the local people. Similarly, they noted that, at the request of the then-Minister Chandulal, measures were taken to establish a Tribal University by allocating around 350 acres of land. 'Have you established even a single new mandal or a single new gram panchayat? During my tenure as the Minister for Tribal Welfare, we established three new mandals and over a hundred gram panchayats in this region, bringing administration closer to the people. Today, you are in power. Even if not on the scale achieved during our government's term, show me if you have established at least one new gram panchayat; if you have established even one, I am ready to quit politics. Are you prepared to accept this challenge?" Satyavathi Rathod demanded that the government implement the promises made to the people during the elections. She asked the government to clarify the status of promises such as the ₹2,500 monthly allowance for women under the Mahalakshmi scheme, the tulam of gold for young women, and the provision of scooters.

She urged the government to ensure the regular supply of fine-quality rice and milk to children at Anganwadi centers. She also called for the continuation of assistance provided to pregnant and lactating women such as the 'KCR Kit' introduced by the previous government, while also advocating for improved medical facilities in government hospitals. Satyavathi Rathod stated that it was during KCR's tenure that administration was brought to the people's doorstep, with BRS leaders standing at the forefront to fight for the public whenever they faced difficulties. She noted that the KCR government deserved credit for bringing officials closer to the people, thereby sparing them the trouble of having to travel to meet District Collectors or Superintendents of Police. She highlighted that Mulugu district was formed during KCR's tenure and that the creation of new districts and mandals had brought administration much closer to the public. She mentioned that the KCR government had undertaken numerous initiatives to improve tribal income, education, healthcare, and infrastructure. She expressed pride in having been part of welfare schemes like 'Kalyana Lakshmi' implemented in Telangana under KCR's leadership, noting the transformation in the lives of the poor following the state's formation. Satyavathi Rathod stated that numerous welfare programs were successfully implemented to uplift the people. She demanded that Revanth Reddy, who seems to have overlooked the 'Kalyana Lakshmi' scheme under the current Congress government, open his eyes to the hardships faced by the public. Expressing happiness at holding an event to mark the 12th anniversary of the Kalyana Lakshmi scheme, she extended heartfelt gratitude to BRS party chief and former Chief Minister Sri Kalvakuntla Chandrababu Naidu for introducing this scheme, which has stood as a pillar of support for the marriages of daughters from poor families. Participants in this program included former Mahabubabad MP Smt. Maloth Kavitha, Mulugu BRS party in-charge Bade Naga Jyothi, former Mulugu district party president Kakulammarri Lakshman Babu, former Government Whip Gongidi Sunita, former ZP Chairpersons Tula Uma, Gandara Jyothi, and Bindu Angoth, Eturuna Garam Sarpanch Kakulammarri Sridevi Lakshman Babu, Hari Ramadevi, former Mulugu Library Organization Chairman Porika Govinda Naik, Bhukya Jampanna, Vijay, Gopal Reddy, Mohan, and others.

Demand to name Mamunur Airport after Prof. JayashankarTelangana Asthitva Vedika state level meeting under the chairmanship of OBC Chairman and former Kuda Chairman Sundar Raj Yadav

Yamsani SAI Bureau Chief Warangal October 2 "Self-rule is gone.. foreign rule has come. Telangana water is going to Andhra. Jobs are ours.. but Andhra people are the ones who give marks. The very existence of Telangana has come into question. Telangana Gana Asthitva Vedika Chairman Veeramala PrakashTelangana said that self-rule has gone in Telangana.. and foreign rule has come, and even though the state is ours.. the rule is being done under the watchful eye of Andhra Pradesh. The Telangana Astivatva Vedika state level meeting was organized on Friday at the Master G Degree & PG College Auditorium on Hanamakonda Hunter Road under the auspices of Organization for Backward Classes Chairman and former Chairman Sundar Raj Yadav. Telangana Astivatva Vedika Chairman was the chief guest. Prakash, Special Guest Telangana Political JAC Convener Karam Ravinder Reddy, and coordinator Sridhar Deshpande participated as guests..First, they garlanded the portraits of Mahatma Gandhi, Professor Jayashankar, and Nalla Narasimha and paid tributes...On this occasion, public artist, teacher, writer, and recipient of the Lifetime Achievement Award, Vallampatla Nageswara Rao was honored. A long discussion was held on the preservation of the existence of Telangana. On this occasion, Telangana Asitva Vedika Chairman Prakash Rao said that although the governance in Telangana, which was won by us, is being led from behind, it is Chandrababu Naidu who is leading it, which is why the state has started facing difficulties again. He said that earlier, to take any administrative decision, everything would be done in the secretariat, but now permission has to be taken from Delhi or Amaravati. He expressed his concern that water exploitation is happening in the state now, just like what happened during the united state and the movement. He said that Telangana water is being diverted to AP, and instead of giving water from the Jurala project next to Gadwal to the Telangana region, the Kandaleru and Somasila projects in Nellore district have been filled through Pothireddypadu. Reservoirs in Chittoor, Anantapur and Ongole districts have been filled. If water is being taken from Mahabubnagar to fill the coastal and Rayalaseema projects, why did the son of Palamuru, CM Revanth Reddy not say a single word to us? They wanted to know how Krishna water went from Nalgonda and Mahabubnagar districts to Kuppam. They said that even during KCR's rule, the state faced difficulties, but the facilities he provided were more than those difficulties. They said that KCR had stopped suicides, provided water to every household, electricity to farmers and industries, and stopped encounters. But they criticized that the scene had reversed after Revanth Reddy came. They said that Revanth Reddy was unable to do justice to Telangana due to his immaturity, lack of experience, and following Chandrababu's orders. They clarified that while golden crops are being grown in Vijayawada and Rajahmundry with the water coming from Telangana, suicides have started again in Telangana. They said that in such circumstances, it is becoming clear that the issue of preserving the identity of Telangana is becoming clear. No one believed when they said that Medigadda was blown up."V. Prakash said that no one believed him when he said that Medigadda in the Kalveswaram project was blown up with bombs. He said that in January 2024, the farmers caught the Congress leaders who were blowing up check dams on the Hussain Mia stream near Peddapalli red-handed, and no action has been taken so far. He reminded that in 2026, two barrages were blown up on Maneru and the concerned EE also said that they had blown them up. But the MLAs and ministers there are saying that they are collapsing due to KCR's shoddy construction, and he questioned how the barrages can collapse when there is no flood. He said that the Telangana government has handed over the Medigadda matter to a prominent organization called CWO PRS in Pune, and they also said that all the barrages and pillars are good and only 4 pillars are damaged. He said that the four pillars were damaged due to the bombs. He said that NDSA, NGRI, Vigilance and other committees inspected Medigadda, but no one wrote in any report why the pillars were not built. He said that the Warangal NIT and Bombay IIT engineers have conducted a survey and have not yet determined the reasons. He was angry that Congress leaders were telling stories instead of building four pillars in Medigadda. The airport should be named after Jayashankar. Telangana Astitwada Vedi chairman V. Prakash demanded that the Warangal airport be named after Jayashankar sir. The Telangana Astitwada Vedi will be like a guru to those who are fighting, and Orugalla should lead the Telangana Astitwada struggle. He clarified that the Astitva Vedika will always be at the forefront to save the Ramappa temple. Will the statues of Gaddar and Jayashankar be installed in Andhra? OBC Chairman and former KUDA Chairman Sundar Raj Yadav said that the existence of Telangana has again become questionable and that development in all sectors has not taken place even after the creation of a separate state. He said that the situation of SC, ST and BC has worsened. He said that statues of Andhra rulers and leaders are being erected in the heart of Hyderabad and that their statues are being erected when orders come from Amaravati. And will the statues of Telangana Gaddar and Jayashankar Sir be installed in Andhra? He questioned. He demanded that if CM Revanth Reddy has the courage, he should install the statues of Gaddar and Jayashankar Sir in Vijayawada. He criticized that even if the rulers are his grandchildren, the people of Andhra are the ones who lead. He called for us to protect our resources ourselves. He made it clear that the Astitw Vedika is working with the inspiration of the Telangana movement, and that the struggle for Telangana's existence will start from Warangal itself. He said that efforts are being made to show Telangana culture as evil, and called for us to protect our existence and our culture ourselves. Telangana resources are being exploited, said Telangana Astitw Vedika Coordinator Sridhar Deshpande. He said that the Telangana Thalli statue was designed with the ideas of the activists, but along with that statue, the Telangana anthem was changed. He said that the statues of Rosaiah, who swore not to let Telangana come, have been placed in the state, and that they are neglecting the farmers by not giving Godavari water. He said that even Krishna waters are being left to Andhra, and that apart from the fact that Telangana has come, the exploitation of resources has increased. They criticized that the Medigadda gates are being repaired and water is being released in vain. The identity of Telangana is being attacked. Former TNG VOS state president Karam Ravinder Reddy said that the identity of Telangana is being attacked. He said that the goal is not to achieve Telangana, but to want equal development in all sectors. He was angry that even though the rulers have changed, the identity of Telangana is being attacked, and that they are saying that the Telangana that we fought for is the Telangana that we gave. He said that Masterji Colleges in Warangal are the center of the movement, that a conspiracy is being hatched to change the history of the Telangana struggle, and that the rulers are busy protecting their assets. He said that the Telangana Existence Forum is preparing for the struggle and that the struggle for Telangana existence will start from Warangal itself. Telangana Existence Forum State Convener Pittala Ravinder, OBC General Secretary, Professor Gaddam Bhaskar, Senior Journalist Buchanna, State Gazetted Vice President Jagan Mohan Rao, Telangana Lecturers Forum State Advisor Gangapuram Venumadhav, Dr. JAC Leader Nagendra Babu, Gowda Sangam State President Bonagani Yadagiri Goud, Gullapalli Chiranjeevi, Vaddiraju Ganesh, Tadiseti Kranthi, Kokkonda Vijayaba Bu, Rachakonda Praveen, Dr. Sriram Shyam, Dr. Palamakula Komaraiah, Dr. Vodithala Ramu, Ravula Rajkumar, Gundeti Chakrapani, and others participated in this program.

The Warangalist community has been affected - Telangana Activists' United Forum State Chairman and prominent lawyer Gudimalla Ravikumar

Yamsani SAI Bureau Chief Warangal October 02. The district was divided and stopped. "There was a conspiracy to eliminate the principle of questioning. The four leaders behind the loss of the MP ticket are still my political guru. KCR has never changed the lives of the activists. A activists' corporation should be established with Rs. 10 thousand crores. The historical Orugallu Gadda, which roared in the Telangana movements, has lagged badly in all sectors in the state, said Telangana activists' united platform state chairman and prominent lawyer Gudimalla Ravikumar. He said that once Warangal was a unique brand in Telangana, but after the formation of the state, that importance gradually decreased and is now fading. He said that the hopes of developing it as the second capital after Hyderabad have not been fulfilled, and criticized that the district has been indiscriminately divided for the selfish real estate financial interests of some. He commented that the division of the district has weakened the comprehensive political and social existence of Warangal, and that the public representatives who should question on behalf of the people are competing in kneeling and stamping their feet at the top. He spoke about the developments faced in his political journey, the loss of the MP ticket, his association with KCR, the situation of Telangana activists, the Odarpu Yatra, the problems of auto drivers and his future political journey in a chat with representatives of Telangana digital media. In his words, the very existence of Orugallugadda was damaged. No one can ignore the role of Warangal in the Telangana movement. Orugallugadda became the center of the movements. This region left its mark in every key struggle for Telangana. Warangal became the stage for many movements that moved the people. Such a historical region, after the formation of the state, has become backward in all fields and has not been able to move forward. Once upon a time, Warangal was a big brand. Telangana had a special identity. After the formation of the state, the importance of this district has gradually decreased. This is a fact that everyone must accept. The words that were said to develop Warangal as the second capital after Hyderabad are not being seen in practice. The importance, investments, and development opportunities that should have come to Warangal are not coming at the expected level. It is sad that such a situation has come to this region, which was the moon of the Telangana movement. The rulers have acted in such a way that Warangal has lost its natural fighting spirit and questioning spirit. That is why there is a feeling that Warangal has been killed. "The district was divided into pieces. "The way the Warangal district was divided has affected the existence of this region. Although districts were formed in the name of administrative convenience, the comprehensive political, social and economic entity of Warangal has been weakened. There is an opinion that the district has been indiscriminately divided for the real estate and financial interests of some vested interests. This has reduced its natural political strength. The power to collectively question public issues has been weakened. Once upon a time, whenever any issue arose, a strong voice was heard from Warangal. Now, a collective voice is not being heard at that level. The situation has become as if there has been a conspiracy to eliminate the principle of questioning people's issues. The division of the district has not only brought about geographical changes. The political strength of Warangal has also been damaged. It is worrying that the Orugalls, who roared in the Telangana movements, are not questioning their rights at the same level. "How many leaders are there who stand as the voice of the people?" The public representatives here have completely failed to raise the funds needed for the development of Warangal. Instead of taking the problems of the people to the attention of the government and the high command and obtaining funds, the leaders who are supposed to do that work are competing in kneeling and stooping at the high command. At a time when they should stand up and question on behalf of the people, a situation has arisen where they have to compromise for positions, personal interests, and political future. As a result, the development of Warangal has lagged behind. Public representatives should stand as the voice of the people. The government should be stopped for the projects, funds, institutions, and opportunities that should come to Warangal. But such a political struggle is not seen. Public representatives should act according to the role played by Warangal in the Telangana movement. They should question the problems of the people. They should fight for the interests of the region. But if priority is given to showing loyalty to the high command, the interests of Warangal will be damaged. If this situation continues, Warangal is in danger of losing its uniqueness even more. Four leaders behind the loss of MP ticket "I have faced conspiracies in my political journey. I have seen many developments while entering politics and working for the people. I still remember the developments that took place in the case of the Warangal MP ticket. I was almost certain of getting the MP ticket. The leadership thought that my legal knowledge, eloquence and language skills would be useful in Delhi politics. But to hinder my political growth, some leaders acted against me. They gave false reports against me. I think that I could not get the ticket because of those developments. Four leaders played a major role in my losing the MP ticket. Some people also misled KCR. But in the end, he is also a leader who has the responsibility to take care of things. I am not revealing all the things that happened then now. Each and every thing will come out when the time comes. I also have the idea of ??writing a book on the developments that took place in my political life. I want to bring the things that happened in it to the public in full detail. There is no need to tell everything now. The truth will come out at the right time. "KCR is my political guru. "Politically, KCR is still my teacher. I have been associated with him since the time of the Telangana movement. The Telangana movement taught me a lot about what a movement is. How to mobilize people. How to fight for a goal. The Telangana state movement under KCR's leadership was a unique political process. Many people who participated in that movement risked their lives, time and financial resources. I am also a participant in that movement. No matter how many ups and downs there are in the political journey, I will consider KCR my political guru. Only time will tell what my future political journey will be. Right now, my focus is on identifying the Telangana movement activists, bringing their problems to the attention of the government, and fighting for justice for them. Positions in politics are not permanent. But the bond of working together in a movement remains. That is why I still respect KCR as my political guru. The lives of the activists have not changed. Even after ten years of the formation of the Telangana state, the expected change has not come in the lives of the activists who participated in the Nizai Teega movement. Those who invested their time, money, intelligence and age for the achievement of the state are not getting due recognition. Those who invested in the achievement of this state are not getting their due share. Recognizing the activists does not mean just giving honors. Permanent steps should be taken to improve the economic and social conditions of their families. Those who put their lives aside during the movement and stood for Telangana should be given due respect and political importance in their own state. We have to question why those who worked hard for the movement are not able to share power. The sacrifices of the activists should be recognized. Their families should be provided with a situation where they can live with dignity. Our demand is that those who fought for the state should be given their rightful share in the state. A corporation should be established with Rs. 10 thousand crores. "Our main demand is to establish a special welfare corporation with Rs. 10 thousand crores for the activists. Merely giving identity cards and occasional honors will not solve the problems of the activists. They should be provided with permanent financial security. Along with pensions, special schemes should be implemented for the welfare of their families. Every activist should be given a 250-yard residential space and employment opportunities should be provided to the affected families of the activists. Special priority should be given to their children in education and job opportunities. Medical facilities should be provided to those suffering from illness. A dignified life should be provided to the activists in their old age. If a corporation is established with Rs. 10 thousand crores, it will be possible to undertake permanent programs for the welfare of the activists through it. The government should respond positively to this. We will keep asking questions until the problems of the activists are resolved. "A consolation trip that met 126 families "Currently, I am busy in identifying Telangana activists. The Odarpu Yatra, undertaken under the auspices of the Telangana Activists' United Forum, is receiving a good response. We started the Yatra at the Amara Veerula Stupa of the first phase of the movement in Warangal on September 17. We toured the joint Warangal district for four days. We met the families of 126 activists. We did not see the expected happiness in their families. Our goal is to identify those who really participated in the movement, meet their families, know their problems, and bring their sufferings to the attention of the government. We are finding out who worked at what level during the movement. Under what conditions did they fight. What sacrifices did their families make.

There is a need to find an answer to the question of why the lives of the activists have not changed even after ten years. We are bringing their problems to light through the Odarpu Yatra and placing clear demands before the government. Formation of a special union for auto drivers. Unable to see the discrimination being faced by auto drivers and the suffering they are facing, I established the Telangana Auto Drivers Union. Lakhs of people in the state are directly and indirectly employed in this sector. But those working in this sector are facing many problems. They are also being harassed for their mistakes, knowingly and unknowingly. The government should take care of the condition of auto drivers working on the roads, the living conditions of their families, and the difficulties they face daily. The auto sector should not be seen as just a part of the transport system, but should be recognized as a sector that provides employment to lakhs of families. Special policies should be formulated on the problems of auto drivers. Steps should be taken to ensure that they get protection, welfare, and justice. I formed the Telangana Auto Drivers Union with the intention of solving these problems. As a lawyer and a social activist, I started my legal career in 1995. I faced caste and class discrimination in court. I made a name for myself as a lawyer with my grasp of the law and knowledge of English and Hindi. I argued cases with strong arguments in cross-examination. I argued cases of the poor and activists for free on many occasions. In 1998, I formed the Young Lawyers Association and organized programs to enhance the professional skills of lawyers. The experience I grew up among different social groups in my childhood influenced my way of thinking. I was born in Warangal and brought up in Rangampet. My mother Gudimalla Pushpa Leela worked as a nurse in MGM. My father Raghavendra Rao worked as a pharmacist. Both of them were inter-caste love marriages. The opportunity to closely observe the problems of Dalits, poor, and weaker sections came from childhood. That is why the nature of responding to social issues was formed. "From magic to movements "In 1982, I formed Moonlight Youth with my friends and organized gymnasiums. We built a community hall through the Navachaitanya Association. We stood guard over female students. We participated in relief efforts during the floods. I learned magic from magician Umapati and gave hundreds of performances. Magic shows removed my shyness and fear. I gained courage to speak in front of people. The eloquence and leadership qualities of holding a microphone and speaking also came from there. I actively participated in the Mandal Commission struggles. The experiences of that movement were useful for my people's movement journey. The violent conditions prevailing in the joint Warangal between 1980 and 2000 deeply affected me. Encounters, landmines, and the deaths of innocent people affected me. I started thinking about the backwardness and inequalities of Telangana. Believing that the achievement of a separate Telangana is the path to a peaceful Praja Telangana, I studied in depth the necessity of a Telangana state along with movement leaders.. Future struggle I attended Telangana Praja Samithi conferences. I shared the stage with Professor Jayashankar. I participated in movement forums along with Prajakavi Kaloji Narayana Rao, Bhupathi Krishnamurthy, Acharya B. Janardhan Rao, Acharya Kurapati Venkata Narayana and others. The experience of working in the Telangana movement laid the foundation for my political and social thoughts. Time will decide what my political future will be. At present, my focus is on identifying activists rather than political positions and future calculations. I am meeting the families of the activists. I am getting to know their problems. I am taking their situations to the people through the Odarpu Yatra. Warangal should regain its natural fighting spirit. I will continue the philosophy of questioning for the people. I will not compromise my self-respect. Our main goal is to ensure justice in our own state for the activists who have invested their lives for Telangana. The pursuit of their rights
